Hi Jack,

Thank you, to you and your team, for all your efforts to bring about a successful sale for Mom and Dad's home today. This has been, and continues to be, a very stressful time for our family and knowing that their home is now SOLD brings a big smile and great sense of relief to me and Mom.

I appreciate your talk today to help Mom understand. Thank you for your kindness to help her understand the process and what a success it was. She was able to talk with the new buyers afterwards and that also made her feel so much better. She's very thankful to you, and your team, for everything and says "Thank you Lord." We can now close this chapter of our lives and move forward to what God has in store for her.

I know we'll be talking soon about the next process for closing, but I just got back in and wanted to thank you for everything you've done and also for being such a great support to me during a very rough time. We send our warmest thoughts and blessings to all of you this holiday season. May your days be joyful and bright and you can get some rest!
