Granger Thagard reference

Jack and Kenny and the staff were very helpful during our auction process. We were four siblings selling a parcel of land that had been in our family for a very long time.

The land had been listed through a few traditional real estate agents many times over several years with only a few bites that ultimately fell through. Months of waiting for potential buyers to go through their due diligence only to have the sale not be completed was exhausting.

Jack jumped through a lot of zoning and survey hoops for us and it all was worth it. We left the auction with a higher sales price than we expected.

I would recommend Granger- Thagard to anyone.

Thank you,
